

I am strongly opposed to any law changes and/or actions by the FCC that further deregulates media control. Consolidation by large corporations of the diverse voices that are crucial for the functioning of our democracy into fewer and fewer viewpoints, through ownership of more and more stations, would leave public opinion steered and engineered for the selfish interests of these media giants. Also, the quality of TV programming would continue to decrease as it has in radio (which is pathetic now, frankly -- thank you Clear Channel for consolidating and removing local DJs and news staffs).

I urge you and your colleagues at the FCC to promote a diverse, balanced, and competitive media. Please stop the FCC rule change on June 2.
